DETAILED ACTIONResponse to Amendment

This is a response to the amendment filed 10/27/2005. Previously elected Claims 3, and 10 have been canceled. Claims 16-22 have been added. Claims 1-2, 4-9, 11-22 are pending. Claims 1-2, 4-9, and 11-15 are withdrawn for reasons of record. New claims 16-22 are under consideration.

Applicants are reminded to cancel the non-elected claims.

Please note any ground of rejection that has not been repeated is removed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

Claims 16-22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, on essentially the same reasons advanced in the previous Office Action mailed 4/27/2005. Applicants argue that the polypeptides of ORFs 1-3 have been characterized and can be utilized in detection method. Applicant's argument as part of amendment filed 10/27/2005 has been considered fully, but they are not persuasive. First, the specification only asserts that ORF2 is capable of recognizing the antibodies produced during infection by PWD circovirus type B (see specification page 19). Therefore, Applicants assertion is not commensurate with the teaching of the scope of the disclosure. Moreover, antibodies are formed against structural proteins and it is not clear from the record, which polypeptide is a structural protein and which is a non-structural protein within the scope of the claimed invention. The claims as written do not specify the polypeptides needed for detection of antibodies. The rejection is respectfully maintained.

Art Unit: 1648

New Grounds of Rejection:

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

Claims 16-22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 16 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being incomplete for omitting essential elements, such omission amounting to a gap between the elements. See MPEP § 2172.01. The omitted elements are: the intended antigen(s) that is/are necessary for detection of circovirus antibodies is/are missing. This affects the dependent claims 17-22.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 16-22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Wang et al (US 2002/0106639 A1).

Art Unit: 1648

The claims and teaching of the above cited reference anticipates the now claimed invention. Wang et al taught a method of detecting PCVII that is the same as circovirus type B or PCVB (see claims 30, 42).

No claims are allowed.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
